Where river meets wood.

Rohida wood and epoxy resin cabinets, consoles, dining tables, mirrors and basins

WHERE NATURE BECOMES DESIGN

WELCOME

Furniture as functional art.

Each Stonera Studio cabinet pairs premium Rohida wood with a flowing river of epoxy resin, so the natural grain and the resin move together across the front of the piece.

This brochure introduces our wood and resin cabinets and consoles, dining tables, mirrors, basins and live-edge wood pieces. Each piece is handcrafted to bring a bold, artistic look and lasting quality to your home.

THE CRAFT

Wood, resin and steel.

Rohida wood

Rohida (Tecomella undulata) is a premium hardwood, prized for its deep colour and resilient character. Its natural grain frames every resin river. Our dining tables also use sheesham wood.

Epoxy resin

Epoxy resin is poured into the wood to form a continuous, translucent river, in amber, aqua or high-gloss black. Resin colours can be changed to suit your interior.

Construction and finish

Cabinet bodies use durable HDMR (High Density Moisture Resistant) board, and sculptural bases are mild steel in matte black. Surfaces are finished with a premium polish or a protective PU matte.

BESPOKE WORK

Made to your space.

Sizes, epoxy colours and finishes can be customised to suit your room.

Every piece is handcrafted, so grain and resin patterns are unique. Share your room size and style with us and we will suggest the right dimensions, resin colour and finish.

CARE GUIDE

Looking after wood and resin.

Wipe with a soft, dry or slightly damp cloth and dry straight away. Avoid harsh chemicals and abrasive cleaners.

Keep pieces away from prolonged direct sunlight, heat sources and standing moisture, and use mats under hot or wet items.

Lift rather than drag when moving a piece.

Let's create something rare.
